Community Support Brings Holiday Joy to 390 Needy Families

ORANGE, Calif. (Jan. 1, 2014)—The Orange County Child Abuse Prevention Center today announced the results of the annual Families Helping Families program, which took place December 14th and 15th to bring basic needs items to desperately needy families for the holidays.

“Families Helping Families is unique opportunity for the community to witness the hardship and poverty that our families face firsthand,” said Scott Trotter, executive director of the Child Abuse Prevention Center. “Families Helping Families allows the community to wrap its arms around those facing child abuse and neglect and bring them hope and stability.”

The 2013 Families Helping Families event was made possible by the support of 65 community groups and corporate supporters including Wells Fargo, the Los Angeles Kings, Western Digital, Target, Hero Nutritionals, Costco Wholesale, Experian, Boeing, The Center for Spiritual Living, K&L Gates, 3M, Gokal Law, Wright, Ford, Young & Co., Nobel Biocare, and EDI Health Group.

About The Child Abuse Prevention Center

The Child Abuse Prevention Center is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to serving at-risk children and families in crisis. The Child Abuse Prevention Center operates 15 programs that work with families in their own homes to break the generational cycle of child abuse. As Orange County’s leading organization focused exclusively on the prevention of child abuse, the Child Abuse Prevention Center has served over 286,000 since its inception in 1983.
